Thou are the mother of our jays, And then the crown doth bear; Thy deeds this day our time employs,-We toind thee la our prayers,

Oh Bovereign, mother, monarch dear, Could we impart our joy. Twould be as when thy con was here,

Thy prince and eldest boy. Although a prince, lie is this day, Ho's hoping stiff to riev; That he may bear the crown away ... From all that are onwise.

Buch are the prospects we declare, And that Victoria live ! And that her eou receive her prayer, And blessed measures give.

Our constitution's standing strong, Though sands and pobbles move ; We sing our favors in a roag. That parliament's improve.

No stain upon our monarch lies, Nor do we now complain ; Her name is glorious in our eyes, This day we praise her name.

Long may we her birthday repeat; May all her subjects join; As children then together meet, .. : It is our mother's time.
